Objective

The objective in any tournament is to have a fair draw so that the advancement of teams is primarily a function of the quality of the team and not merely the luck of the draw. You cannot eliminate all luck but you can make sure that the experience of each team is diverse.

Goals

1. No two schools, not just teams, but no two schools will face each other twice in the preliminary rounds. This will result in a school that enters two teams into the competition will be guaranteed to face six different schools in the three preliminary rounds.
2. To create a simple mechanism for eliminating judge conflicts by keeping judges from not only seeing the same team twice but also the same school.
3. Simplify the draw process to assure balance.

Solution

Solution #1: The following is a series of draws depending on the precise number of teams in the tournament. The draw is preset to guarantee that no school will see the same school twice in the preliminary rounds.

Solution #2: If the room assignments are followed, then the tournament coordinator can be assured that there will not be a conflict in judges (a conflict based on a judge having already seen a team or school). If a judge scores more than one round they return to the same room each round they score. The advocates will all be in different rooms each round. Never move judges!

How to Effectuate the Draw

A draw is still required to choose the pairings. If a school has two teams in the competition, then they pull from a pile of pre-set paired letters. If a school only has one team in the competition, then they pull from a pile of pre-set single letters.

Example

Imagine a 16-team tournament with 10 different schools competing. The schools with two teams will pick at random from six pre-set pairings of letters, while the schools with one team will pick at random from the four remaining letters.

Schools #1, #2, #3, #4, #5, and #6:

A school with two teams could be any of the following pairings:

(A & P; B & I; D & K; E & L; G & N; H & O)

Schools #7, #8, #9, and #10:

A school with only one team could be any of the following letters:

(C; F; J; M)
